Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Group I in the reply filed on 4/6/07 is acknowledged.

Priority

2. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Information Disclosure Statement

3. The IDS's, filed 9/2/04 and 10/1/06, have been considered in full.

Drawings

4. The drawings, as originally filed, are acceptable as formal.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Stiz et al. (6,105,724).

Art Unit: 3682

Stitz et al. Shows the claimed subject matter where a bearing (45) is being fed lubricant based on operating conditions of the bearing (see column 15, lines 37-41):

Input in control unit 82, on the other hand, are, via measuring lines 83, operating data received from the individual antifriction bearings I and output by measuring sensors 84, such as, for example, the temperature values or the values originating from the measuring of vibrations of the individual antifriction bearings. Control commands resulting therefrom are supplied, via control lines 85 to individual metering pumps 15, which again supply the respective antifriction bearings 1, via lubricant lines 4, with individually determined amounts of lubricant.

and the lubricant is mixed with air

see (column 8, lines 51-53):

Preferred is to supply the lubricant to the individual bearings in gaseous or liquid form as lubricating oil and under an increased pressure.

Conclusion

7. The following are suggested formats for either a Certificate of Mailing or Certificate of Transmission under 37 CFR 1.8(a). The certification may be included with all correspondence concerning this application or proceeding to establish a date of mailing or transmission under 37 CFR 1.8(a). Proper use of this procedure will result in such communication being considered as timely if the established date is within the required period for reply. The Certificate should be signed by the individual actually depositing or transmitting the correspondence or by an individual who, upon information and belief, expects the correspondence to be mailed or transmitted in the normal course of business by another no later than the date indicated.
